

Anne Kelly is a printmaker, represented by the emerging Ground Gallery (expressionsgraphics.org) in Oak Park, Illinois. She has studied a wide variety of printmaking and encaustic mixed media techniques with several artists, including Sarah Smelser, Dutes Miller, Donna Brown, Steve Fisher, Jeffrey Hirst, and Sarah Rehmer, in an effort to hone her own personal style and process. Her printmaking often centers on viscosity-inked monotypes that experiment with color and overlapping, repetitive layers. Surrounding landscape features are her primary influence, particularly the Niagara Escarpment connecting her to daughter Mamie in Stratford Ontario. Additionally Anne enjoys creating collagraph prints from found objects, inking one plate with both intaglio and relief techniques.

Her work has been featured in several juried shows in the Chicago area including the Her Voice Shows at Expressions Graphics from 2017 - 2020 and at the Oak Park Library Art Gallery in January 2016. Anne has also been active in Door County, Wisconsin during the last ten years. Her collagraph monoprint "Bert" was selected for the Purchase Award from the 53rd Annual Juried Exhibit at The Hardy Gallery in 2015. In 2014 Anne was invited to decorate an egg using upcycled materials, "Last One In," for the EGGstravaganza in Egg Harbor and celebrated the whimsy of this fundraising community art event.
